Agent Allocations to the Expedia Direct Channel (EXPDIRHC)

When your Expedia direct connection is set up and activated, BookingCenter will create a new Agent Channel called EXPDIRHC.

- This new channel will appear in Agent Relationships. Go to SETUP | RELATIONSHIPS | AGENT RELATIONSHIPS.
- Room Type/Rate Plans have been allocated based on your initial mapping and can be viewed in the EXPDIRHC agent. The allocations in this channel can only be changed by BookingCenter.
- All Expedia bookings will come in to your BookingCenter PMS with the agent code of EXPDIRHC,
- All Expedia bookings will come in with EXPDIR as the Source and an "E", for Expedia, at the end of the booking confirmation #, i.e. 626310332E

The screenshot shows the BookingCenter MyPMS Setup Area with the 'Agent Relationships' tab selected. A table lists agent allocations for EXPDIRHC, including details like Agent ID, Agent Type, Agent Name, Rooms Allocated, Status, Commission, and Rate Loading. Each row has a 'Change' button.

When you click on the number in the Rooms Allocated column, i.e. 36 of 62, the window will open with the Room Type/Rate Plans allocated to the channel. Therefore, when you click on the number of rooms allocated in the EXPDIRHC channel, the Room Type/Rate Plans allocated to Expedia channel will appear here.

The screenshot shows the BookingCenter MyPMS Setup Area with the 'Room Type Allocations' tab selected. A table lists room type allocations for EXPDIRHC, including details like Room Type, Rate, Rate EXP ID, Number of Rooms, Rooms Allocated, Percentage Allocated, and N/A. Each row has a 'Change' button.

Room Type	Rate	Rate EXP ID	Number of Rooms	Rooms Allocated	Percentage Allocated	N/A	N/A
